

Die Aufteilung der Güter in der Gesellschaft ist vollkommen unnötig

by Luca Francesconi

Die Aufteilung der Güter in der Gesellschaft ist vollkommen unnötig.

The division of possessions in society is perfectly useless.

La ripartizione degli averi nella società è perfettamente inutile.

Violently Happy - come calm me down before I get into trouble

Violently Happy - I'm aiming too high

Violently Happy - I'll get into trouble real soon

Violently Happy - overemotional

Suffocation and distortion are two things we feel every day in our society - when we're in a narrow, geometrical, cold and detached conference room, or even in our office, rented apartment or kitchen.

Surrounded by a thousand objects yet feeling lost, disoriented and eventually claustrophobic.

Geometry sometimes makes you feel uncomfortable. Perfection kills you.

What we hear or listen to these days are usually distortions of something not even close to reality. Not even close to sincerity. I believe it's because of cowardliness. People can't take reality - what it means to really feel. They can only handle ambiguity and suspicion.
